

Certificate Course on M&E Design and Maintenance of Large Scale Pumping Systems
(13, 20 & 27 March 2017)

ORGANISER:

The Hong Kong Institution of Engineers –
 Mechanical, Marine, Naval Architecture & Chemical Division

SUPPORTING ORGANISERS:

Institution of Mechanical Engineers – Hong Kong Branch
 American Society of Mechanical Engineers – Hong Kong Section

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

The course aims at providing a forum where engineers could learn the basic design of large scale pumping systems by using the system parameters for selecting the pump type, pump materials and pipe sizing as well as designing the electrical system. In addition, engineers could appreciate the large pump overhaul processes and the planned maintenance / condition monitoring strategies of large scale pumps.
